

EVANS SCHOOL INTERNSHIP AWARDS 2010

Application deadline: Friday, April 30, 2010 by 4pm.

Submit applications to Special Fellowships Committee, 109 Parrington. If you have any questions, please email evansjob@u.washington.edu. Incomplete applications at time of deadline will not be considered.

Prerequisites for All Awards:

All awards have the following requirements. Each specific award may have additional requirements.

- Applicants must be currently enrolled Evans School students graduating in December 2010 or later.
- Preference will be given to applicants who have yet to fulfill their Evans School internship requirement and to those without significant previous work experience.
- Students may develop their own internship opportunity or apply for a currently advertised unpaid internship that fits the award criteria.
- Students can apply for any awards for which they meet the stated requirements; but no student will receive more than one award.
- All awards are available in June and are intended to support full-time summer internships of a minimum of 400 hours.
- All students who receive an award will be required to attend the Annual Evans School Fellowship event, sometime during winter or spring quarter.

AWARDS LIST AND DESCRIPTIONS

ELAINE CHANG ENDOWED FELLOWSHIP FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE & DEVELOPMENT

The Elaine Chang Endowed Fellowship for International Peace & Development provides for availability of funding for an international internship. The award will provide support for a student pursuing an unpaid or low-paid internship in an organization focused on peace and development issues (preference given to non-U.S. internships). The award will be made available in June and is intended to support full-time summer internships for 400-480 hours. (Students may begin interning part-time before funds become available.) One award of $1,400 is available.

Specific Requirements for Elaine Chang Award:

- Selection will be based on academic merit and the merits of the student's proposal as it relates to international peace and development.
- Preference will be given to students who wish to perform activities outside of the United States.
- Preference will be given to internship proposals in which the sponsoring agency can provide some level of matching stipend or the student has secured resources from another source (i.e. grant).

EXCELLENCE IN PUBLIC SERVICE WASHINGTON D.C. INTERNSHIP AWARD

The Daniel J. Evans School of Public Affairs is pleased to offer awards for students who wish to do government or nonprofit internships in the Washington D.C. area. These special awards will provide students new opportunities for field experience and important professional connections at the national level. Hour requirement: 400-480 hours (full-time over the summer). One award of up to $2,500.

Specific Requirements for DC Award:

Selection will be based on academic merit and the merits of the student's proposal.

- The fund is intended for low pay/unpaid internships in the D.C. area.
- How this internship fits your goals and academic interest. Also explain how the skills and experiences obtained will lead to Excellence in Public Service.

LOCKE FELLOWSHIPS IN SOCIAL JUSTICE (DOMESTIC)

In honor of Professor Hubert Locke's years of service to the School of Public Affairs and the field of social justice, we are proud to invite applications for the Locke Fellowship in Social Justice. This fellowship was funded by persons interested in honoring Professor Hubert Locke and his concerns for justice in our society. The award will provide support for a student pursuing an internship in a non-profit organization devoted to domestic social justice issues. The award will be available in June and is intended to support a full-time summer internship, 400-480 hours. (The recipient may begin interning part-time before funds become available if necessary.) Two awards of up to $3,000 will be available.

Specific Requirements for Locke Fellowships:

Selection will be based on academic merit and the merits of the student's proposal as it relates to social justice.

- The fund is intended for internship work in an organization that focuses on dealing with problems, issues, and needs confronting the poor and the dispossessed in our society. Students and organizations working in urban inner city or economically depressed rural communities are of special interest.
- Preference will be given to internship proposals in which the sponsoring agency can provide some level of matching support or the student has secured resources from another source (i.e. grant). However, this is not a requirement.

NANCY BELL EVANS CENTER ON NONPROFITS & PHILANTHROPY NONPROFIT FELLOWSHIP

The Nancy Bell Evans Center on Nonprofits & Philanthropy is offering fellowships in support of nonprofit service. The awards will provide support for students pursuing unpaid or low-paid internships at nonprofit or philanthropic organizations. The awards will be made available in June and are intended to support full-time summer internships for a minimum of 400 hours. Students may begin interning part-time before funds become available. The number of fellowships offered will depend upon the quantity and quality of applications, as well as demonstrated financial need. Applications for four awards up to $2,500 will be considered.

Specific Requirements for Nancy Bell Evans Center Nonprofit Fellowship:

Selection will be based on academic merit and the merits of the student's proposal.

- The funding is intended for internship work in nonprofit or philanthropic organizations that are focused on the arts, community development, education, the environment, health, sector research, social justice, or social services.
- Preference will be given to internship proposals in which the sponsoring agency can provide some level of matching stipend or the student has secured resources from another source (i.e. grant).
- Fellowship recipients will be required to present a summary of their internship experience at the Spring 2010 Washington State Nonprofit Conference.

CLASS GIFT FELLOWSHIP

In honor of the Evans School alumni who have generously contributed gifts to be awarded to a student for summer internship support in the past year one award of $500 will provide support for a student pursuing an unpaid or low-paid internship in a nonprofit organization or public sector agency. The award will be made available in June and is intended to support full-time summer internships for 400 - 480 hours.

Requirements:

Selection will be based on academic merit and the merits of the student's proposal.

- The fund is intended for internship work in nonprofit or public sector, environmental, community development, international, or social and educational development organizations/agencies.
- Preference will be given to internship proposals in which the sponsoring agency can provide some level of matching stipend or the student has secured resources from another source (i.e. grant).

APPLICATION FORM:

Please print and fill out this page and submit to 109 Parrington Hall with all required documents. Incomplete applications, and late applications, WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED. Application deadline: Friday, April 30, 2010 by 4pm.

Please submit 2 copies of your application materials.

YOUR NAME:

EXPECTED DATE OF GRADUATION:

Please check off which awards you are requesting consideration for:

- Elaine Chang Endowed Fellowship For International Peace & Development
- Excellence In Public Service Washington D.C. Internship Award
- Locke Fellowships In Social Justice (Domestic)
- Nancy Bell Evans Center On Nonprofits & Philanthropy Nonprofit Fellowship
- Class Gift Fellowship

Required Documents:

Students must submit an application to the Evans School Special Fellowships Committee. A written promise of internship employment must be provided at time of application, even if internship is not to begin until summer. The application should include the following materials:

1. A narrative description (three page limit) of the internship the student plans to undertake, including:
 - The tasks the student will complete during the internship (you may attach an internship description).
 - The goals of the internship for the student and the organization.
 - How this internship fits your goals and academic interest.
 - Specific narrative for each of the specific awards. For each award you are applying for, write a short statement explaining how your internship fits with each award, as follows:
 - Elaine Chang Endowed Fellowship For International Peace & Development: Explain how the skills and experiences obtained relate to peace and development outside of the U.S.
 - Excellence In Public Service Washington D.C. Internship Award: Explain how the skills and experiences obtained will lead to Excellence in Public Service.
 - Locke Fellowships In Social Justice: How these tasks and goals of the internship will contribute to social justice in our society.
 - Nancy Bell Evans Center On Nonprofits & Philanthropy Nonprofit Fellowship: Explain how the skills and experiences obtained will lead to Excellence in Nonprofit Service.
 - Class Gift Fellowship: Explain how the skills and experience will benefit your future career in public service.
 - The proposed dates of the internship.
 - A description of the contribution the organization will make toward the student's internship. This may include in-kind contributions, salary, stipends, subsidies for transportation, or other support given to the student. Please also mention any outside sources of funding that you have been awarded to help offset your summer costs (i.e. grants/scholarships).
2. Descriptive materials about the agency/organization and written promise of employment.
3. Current resume.
4. Current Evans School transcript (unofficial okay).

By submitting this application, I state that all the application material is correct and accurate. If awarded the fellowship, I agree to attend the Annual Evans School Fellowship luncheon, write a thank you letter for the award, and fulfill the requirements of the internship.

SIGNATURE

DATE